What we will cover (parity roadmap)

These are table stakes for Premium/Pro credibility — users already get them elsewhere:

- Predicted lineups for all Premier League clubs before each deadline (fpl.team, Fix).
- Live rank and live mini-league movement on matchdays (fpl.team, LiveFPL, Fix).
- Transfer solver / multi-GW optimiser (fpl.team, FPL Review MILP, Fix AI).
- Chip timing assistants — Wildcard, Free Hit, Triple Captain, Bench Boost (fpl.team, Review).
- Full predicted points without blur (all paid tools).
- Expanded watchlist — comparable to tracking rivals in Fix / live leagues in fpl.team.

What we add net-new

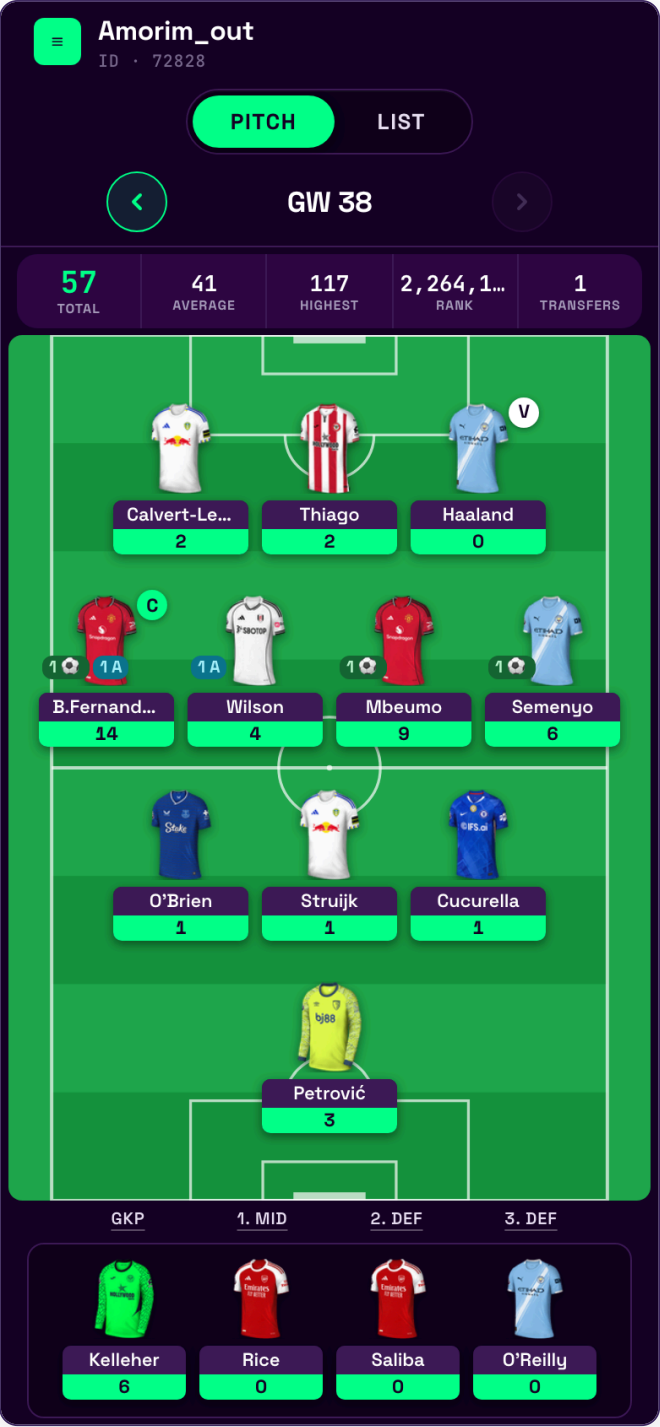

Capability	Why it matters	Competitor gap
Unified price intelligence	One workflow: season/GW movers + tonight likelihood + “my squad” filter	Others split across FPL Statistics, Fix, spreadsheets
Gameweek review + transfer what-if	Learning loop after the deadline; reduces repeated mistakes	FPL Review has charts; not mobile-first unified with planner
Dual watchlists (managers + players)	Long-horizon planning without committing transfers	Rarely combined in one signed-in mobile product
PRED-09 model on free data + confidence badge	Trust UX; no Opta bill at launch	Review/Scout need paid data or opaque ep_next
PRED-10 natural-language rationale	Makes projections actionable for non-quants	Chat tools answer ad hoc; not embedded in player sheet
Transfer help tour + mobile pitch UX	Lowers churn for new users; improves conversion to paid	fpl.team powerful but steep; Plan FPL simpler but fewer analytics

What we will NOT prioritise (and why)

- Long-form editorial / Scout Picks — Scout’s moat; we stay tool-first.
- Elite XI live reveals — Fix’s moat; expensive data relationships.
- WhatsApp communities — LazyFPL model; ops-heavy, low margin.
- Standalone AI chat SKU — ChatFPL competes on messages; we bundle AI later inside squad context.

Pricing position

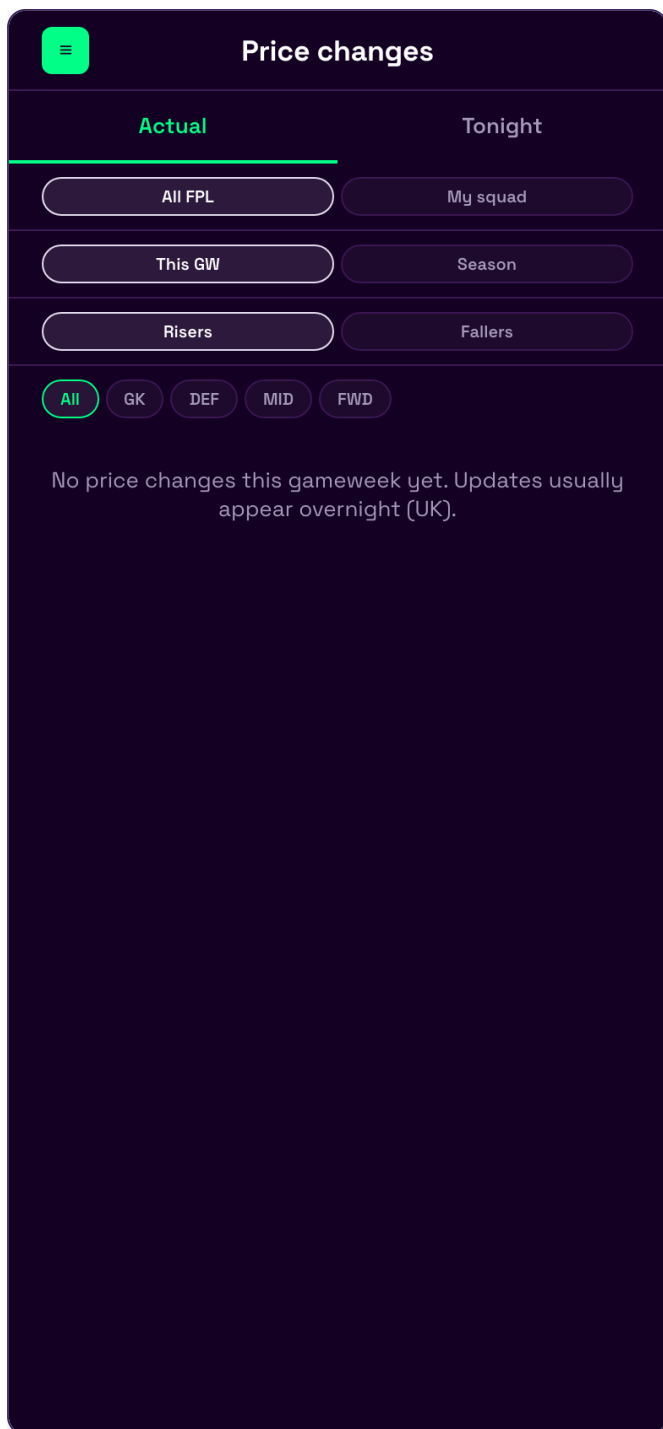

Consumer-grade mobile UI (live app) vs spreadsheet-first legacy tools:

Pitch-first squad — weekly anchor screen

Integrated planner — not a separate website

Unified price intelligence — rare in one screen

Post-GW learning loop — retention driver

Segment	Incumbent	Our plan
Budget planner	Plan FPL free, FPL Form free	Free planner + stats; monetise predictions
Mid toolkit	fpl.team £25–50, Focal £30	Premium £25 season
Optimiser	FPL Review ~£36, Scout £60	Pro £45 when solver + model live
Premium content	Hub £60–360, LazyFPL £50	Not competing

Win / loss scenarios

We win

Manager wants one mobile tab for planner + review + prices; hates juggling Scout + LiveFPL + spreadsheet.

We lose

Manager already pays Review + fpl.team for MILP + multi-GW; needs elite reveals or Opta heatmaps today.

Strategic takeaway

Compete on integration and mobile UX at £25 season, not on being the deepest data shop on day one. Close the solver/live gap in H2 2026, then raise Pro ARPU. Avoid naming collision with fpl.team / Scout / Review — see brand-naming-options.pdf.
